FLOOR 09

Second Floor.

Unit-2A · Unit-2Z

Typical residential level.
Two units per floor.
Generous floor-to-ceiling
glazing throughout.

Both units served by a central core - lifts, stairs and service.

Designed for cross-ventilation and light
from two aspects.

Third Floor.

Unit-3A · Unit-3Z

Mirrors the second-floor configuration above.

Two residences per level, each oriented to maximise natural light and privacy.

Service entries kept to the rear, separated from the primary circulation.

Fourth Floor.

Unit-4A · Unit-4Z

Identical typology
to the levels below.

The building is structured for repetition - the same plan, the same materials,
the same considered
detailing on every floor.

Consistency is part of the architecture.

Fifth Floor.

Unit-5A · Unit-5Z

The mid-level of the building.

Continuous balcony lines wrap the principal facades.

Lift, service and stair core remains in the centre, freeing the perimeter for living.

Sixth Floor.

Unit-6A · Unit-6Z

Continuation of the typical residential plan.

Acoustic separation between residences specified to international standards.

Internal partitions and floors insulated throughout.

Seventh Floor.

Unit-7A · Unit-7Z

Higher-level views begin from this point upward.

Two residences per floor, each with full-height glazing and a generous balcony.

Specification identical to the lower levels.

Eighth Floor.

Unit-8A · Unit-8Z

The top residential level.

Two single-floor apartments, set below the duplex above.

Direct lift access into each residence.

Full-height glazing, wrap-around balconies.

Ninth Floor

P1. 9A

The top of the building.

A single duplex apartment occupying two full levels - the ninth floor and the level above.

Private lift entry. Internal stair connecting both levels. Generous rooftop terrace.

The largest residence in the building.

DUPLEX PENTHOUSE
P1 - 9A DUPLEX PENTHOUSE , P2 - 9Z DUPLEX PENTHOUSE

LOWER LEVEL

Ninth Floor

P2-9Z

The top of the building.

A single duplex apartment occupying two full levels - the ninth floor and the level above.

Private lift entry. Internal stair connecting both levels. Generous rooftop terrace.

The largest residence in the building.
